

Here's the cover letter:

Dear Hiring Committee,

I am writing to apply for the Classroom Teacher position for Years 2-3 at Halfway Bush School, a role that deeply resonates with my passion for inclusive, supportive education and my extensive experience in Foundation Phase teaching.

With 18+ years of dedicated experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education, I bring a comprehensive skill set in supporting diverse learning needs. My background includes specialized work with students with autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities, which has cultivated my expertise in curriculum adaptation and individualized learning strategies.

As a fully registered New Zealand teacher with a Bachelor of Education in Foundation Phase and additional certifications in Makaton and Sign Language, I am well-equipped to create an engaging, inclusive classroom environment. My approach focuses on recognizing each student's unique potential and developing tailored learning experiences that promote academic and personal growth.

My professional philosophy centers on creating supportive, adaptive learning spaces where all students can thrive. I am particularly skilled in behavior modification techniques and early childhood development, ensuring that every child receives the targeted support they need to succeed.

Halfway Bush School's commitment to holistic, student-centered education aligns perfectly with my professional values. I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my skills, experience, and genuine passion for teaching to your school community.

I look forward to discussing how my background and expertise can support your educational goals.

Kind regards,

Henriette Charlotte Beeslaar
