

Here's the cover letter:

Dear Hiring Committee,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Kaiako position at Otaki School, specifically for Years 5-8 in Maori medium or bilingual education. With 18+ years of dedicated experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my expertise to your school's inclusive learning environment.

My professional background is deeply rooted in supporting diverse learners, with specialized experience working with students with autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities. Throughout my career, I have developed comprehensive skills in curriculum adaptation, behavior modification, and creating supportive learning spaces that enable every student to thrive. My Makaton and Sign Language certifications further underscore my commitment to inclusive communication strategies.

Holding a Bachelor of Education in Foundation Phase and current New Zealand Teaching Registration, I am well-positioned to deliver high-quality, culturally responsive education. My approach emphasizes individualized learning, respectful engagement, and holistic student development. I am particularly passionate about creating classroom environments that celebrate neurodiversity and support each learner's unique potential.

I am genuinely enthusiastic about Otaki School's reputation for inclusive education and am eager to contribute to your collaborative, student-centered approach. My multilingual background and extensive experience in adapting curricula would align well with your bilingual education model.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to discussing how my skills and experience can support Otaki School's educational mission.

Warm regards,

Henriette Charlotte Beeslaar
