

Here's the cover letter:

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Kaiako | Leaving to Learn position at Te Aho o Te Kura Pounamu. With 18+ years of dedicated experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education, I am passionate about creating inclusive, supportive learning environments that empower every student to reach their full potential.

My extensive background in supporting students with diverse learning needs - including autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities - aligns perfectly with the inclusive education principles I understand are fundamental to New Zealand's educational approach. My Bachelor of Education (Foundation Phase) and current NZ Teaching Registration provide a solid professional foundation for this role.

Throughout my career, I have developed specialized expertise in curriculum adaptation, behavior modification, and individualized learning strategies. My Makaton and Sign Language certifications further demonstrate my commitment to accessible, communication-focused teaching. I pride myself on developing tailored educational experiences that recognize and celebrate each student's unique strengths and learning profile.

Te Aho o Te Kura Pounamu's innovative approach to education resonates deeply with my professional philosophy. I am particularly excited about the opportunity to contribute my skills in a flexible learning environment that prioritizes student-centered education.

My multicultural background and bilingual capabilities (English and Afrikaans) enable me to connect with diverse student populations and create inclusive, supportive classroom communities.

I am confident that my extensive experience, specialized qualifications, and genuine passion for inclusive education make me an ideal candidate for this position. I look forward to discussing how my skills can contribute to your team's important work.

Warm regards,

Henriette Charlotte Beeslaar
