

Here's the cover letter:

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Numeracy Teacher position at Christ's College, commencing 28 April 2026. With 18+ years of dedicated experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education, I am confident in my ability to contribute significantly to your mathematics teaching team.

My professional background encompasses extensive expertise in supporting diverse learning needs, particularly with students experiencing autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities. My Bachelor of Education (Foundation Phase) and current New Zealand Teaching Registration provide a robust foundation for delivering high-quality, inclusive educational experiences.

Throughout my career, I have developed specialized skills in curriculum adaptation, learning support, and implementing individualized teaching strategies. My Makaton and Sign Language certifications further enhance my capacity to communicate effectively with students across various learning profiles. I am passionate about creating adaptive, engaging mathematical learning environments that support every student's potential.

Christ's College's commitment to inclusive education deeply resonates with my professional philosophy. I am particularly excited about the opportunity to bring my comprehensive experience in special educational needs and numeracy instruction to your institution. My approach prioritizes building student confidence, developing mathematical understanding, and ensuring every learner feels supported and challenged.

My multicultural background and bilingual capabilities (English and Afrikaans) enable me to connect with students from diverse backgrounds, fostering an inclusive and supportive classroom atmosphere.

I am enthusiastic about the possibility of contributing to Christ's College and would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my experience aligns with your educational objectives.

Kind regards,

Henriette Charlotte Beeslaar
