

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the SENCO teacher in-charge position at Longburn Adventist College. With 18+ years of dedicated experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education, I am passionate about creating inclusive, supportive learning environments for students with diverse educational needs.

My extensive background in supporting students with autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities has equipped me with specialized skills in curriculum adaptation and individualized learning strategies. Holding a Bachelor of Education in Foundation Phase and current New Zealand Teaching Registration, I bring a comprehensive and professional approach to special educational support.

My professional expertise extends beyond traditional teaching methodologies. I am Makaton certified and have completed Sign Language Modules 1 and 2, which allows me to communicate effectively with students who have communication challenges. My approach focuses on holistic student development, emphasizing behavior modification, early childhood development, and personalized learning support.

Longburn Adventist College's commitment to inclusive education aligns perfectly with my professional philosophy. I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my skills and experience to your school's special education program, supporting students to reach their full potential.

My multicultural background and bilingual capabilities (English and Afrikaans) further enhance my ability to connect with diverse student populations and create adaptive, nurturing learning environments.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my qualifications and experience can contribute to your school's educational goals. Thank you for considering my application.

Warm regards,
