

Here's the professional cover letter:

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Junior School teacher position at Ngutunui School. With over 18 years of dedicated experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my expertise to your educational community.

My professional journey has been deeply focused on inclusive education, particularly supporting students with diverse learning needs. Throughout my career, I have successfully worked with students diagnosed with autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities, developing specialized learning strategies that promote individual growth and academic achievement. My Makaton Certification and Sign Language qualifications have further enhanced my ability to communicate and support students with varied communication challenges.

As a registered New Zealand teacher with a Bachelor of Education in Foundation Phase, I bring a comprehensive understanding of curriculum adaptation and developmentally appropriate teaching practices. My approach combines evidence-based intervention techniques with compassionate, student-centered learning experiences. I am particularly skilled in behaviour modification and creating inclusive classroom environments that celebrate each student's unique strengths.

Ngutunui School's commitment to holistic education resonates deeply with my professional philosophy. I am passionate about creating dynamic, supportive learning spaces where every child can thrive and reach their full potential. My multilingual background and extensive experience in special educational needs would allow me to bring a unique perspective to your teaching team.

I am eager to discuss how my skills and experience align with Ngutunui School's educational vision. Thank you for considering my application.

Kind regards,

Henriette Charlotte Beeslaar
