

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Resource Teacher Learning and Behaviour position at Masterton Primary School. With 18+ years of dedicated experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education, I am passionate about supporting students with diverse learning needs and creating inclusive educational environments.

My professional background is specifically aligned with the critical requirements of this role. As a registered New Zealand teacher with a Bachelor of Education in Foundation Phase, I bring extensive expertise in supporting students with special educational needs, including autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities. My Makaton Certification and Sign Language qualifications further demonstrate my commitment to inclusive communication and learning strategies.

Throughout my career, I have developed comprehensive skills in curriculum adaptation, behaviour modification, and personalised learning support. My approach focuses on identifying individual student strengths, implementing targeted interventions, and fostering an environment where every learner can thrive. My experience has consistently shown that with the right support, students with diverse needs can achieve remarkable educational outcomes.

I am particularly drawn to Masterton Primary School's reputation for supportive and innovative special education practices. My professional philosophy aligns perfectly with creating inclusive, nurturing learning spaces that empower students to reach their full potential. My bilingual background in English and Afrikaans also enables me to communicate effectively and sensitively with diverse student populations.

I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my skills, passion, and extensive experience to your school's learning support team. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my background can support Masterton Primary School's educational goals.

Thank you for considering my application.

Warm regards,
