Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Resource Teacher: Learning and Behaviour (RTLB) position at Tairangi School. With over 18 years of dedicated experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education, I am passionate about creating inclusive learning environments that support diverse student needs.

My professional background is specifically tailored to this role. As a qualified educator with a Bachelor of Education in Foundation Phase and current NZ Teaching Registration, I bring extensive expertise in supporting students with complex learning and behavioural requirements. My specialized experience includes working with students with autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities, which aligns perfectly with the RTLB position's core responsibilities.

My qualifications extend beyond traditional teaching credentials. I hold Makaton Certification and Sign Language (Modules 1 & 2), which enables me to communicate effectively with students who have diverse communication needs. My approach to inclusive education focuses on curriculum adaptation, individualized learning strategies, and positive behaviour modification techniques.

Throughout my career, I have consistently demonstrated a commitment to holistic student support. My professional philosophy centers on identifying each student's unique strengths and developing targeted interventions that promote academic and personal growth. I am skilled at collaborating with multidisciplinary teams, parents, and support networks to create comprehensive learning plans.

I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my expertise to Tairangi School and support your commitment to inclusive education. My multilingual background and comprehensive understanding of special educational needs position me as an ideal candidate for this role.

I look forward to discussing how my experience and passion can contribute to your school's learning support objectives.

Kind regards,

Henriette Charlotte Beeslaar
