

Here's the cover letter:

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the Teacher of Business Studies and Numeracy Support position at Chilton Saint James School. With 18+ years of dedicated experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my expertise to your innovative educational environment.

My professional background is particularly well-aligned with this role. As an experienced educator with extensive training in inclusive education and learning support, I bring a comprehensive understanding of diverse student learning needs. My qualifications include a Bachelor of Education (Foundation Phase) and current New Zealand Teaching Registration, which underpin my commitment to high-quality educational practices.

My specialized experience with students with diverse learning requirements--including those with autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities--has equipped me with exceptional skills in curriculum adaptation and individualized learning strategies. My Makaton and Sign Language certifications further demonstrate my commitment to inclusive, accessible education.

I am particularly drawn to Chilton Saint James School's approach to supporting individual student learning. The short-term, focused nature of this role resonates with my professional philosophy of targeted, strategic educational intervention. My background in business studies and numeracy support, combined with my deep understanding of differentiated learning, makes me an ideal candidate for this position.

My multilingual capabilities in English and Afrikaans, coupled with my extensive experience in behavior modification and early childhood development, enable me to create engaging, supportive learning environments where all students can thrive.

I am enthusiastic about the opportunity to contribute to your school community and would welcome the chance to discuss how my skills and experience align with your educational goals.

Warm regards,

Henriette Charlotte Beeslaar
