

Here's the cover letter:

Dear Hiring Committee,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Scale A teaching position at Weymouth School. With 18 years of dedicated experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my expertise to your educational community.

My professional background is deeply rooted in inclusive education, with extensive experience supporting students with diverse learning needs, including those with autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities. My Bachelor of Education in Foundation Phase, combined with my current New Zealand Teaching Registration, has equipped me with comprehensive skills in curriculum adaptation and differentiated learning strategies.

My professional strengths include:

- Specialized support for students with special educational needs
- Comprehensive understanding of inclusive classroom practices
- Advanced communication techniques, including Makaton and Sign Language
- Proven track record of developing adaptive learning environments
- Expertise in behavior modification and individualized learning plans

Throughout my career, I have consistently demonstrated a commitment to creating supportive, engaging learning spaces where every student can thrive. My approach focuses on identifying individual strengths and providing targeted interventions that promote academic and personal growth.

My multicultural background and bilingual capabilities (English and Afrikaans) further enhance my ability to connect with diverse student populations. I am passionate about creating inclusive, nurturing educational experiences that empower students to reach their full potential.

I am genuinely excited about the possibility of joining the Weymouth School team and contributing to your educational mission. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my skills and experience align with your school's objectives.

Thank you for considering my application.

Warm regards,

Henriette Charlotte Beeslaar
