

Here's the cover letter:

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Kaiako position at Te Aho o Te Kura Pounamu, where I believe my extensive experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education will be a valuable asset to your educational team.

With over 18 years of dedicated teaching experience, I bring a comprehensive background in inclusive education and specialized support for students with diverse learning needs. My expertise spans working with students with autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities, utilizing evidence-based strategies to create supportive and engaging learning environments.

My Bachelor of Education in Foundation Phase, coupled with full New Zealand Teaching Registration, demonstrates my commitment to professional excellence. Additionally, my Makaton Certification and Sign Language qualifications (Module 1 & 2) underscore my ability to communicate effectively with students across different learning profiles.

Throughout my career, I have developed a nuanced approach to curriculum adaptation, focusing on individualized learning strategies that empower students to reach their full potential. My experience in behavior modification and early childhood development has consistently enabled me to create inclusive, responsive classroom environments that support holistic student growth.

Te Aho o Te Kura Pounamu's commitment to inclusive education resonates deeply with my professional philosophy. I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my skills, multilingual capabilities, and passion for supportive teaching to your organization.

I look forward to discussing how my experience and approach can contribute to your educational community.

Warm regards,

Henriette Charlotte Beeslaar
