

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Learning Support Coordinator position at New Windsor School. With over 18 years of dedicated experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education, I am confident in my ability to contribute significantly to your school's inclusive learning environment.

My professional background is specifically aligned with supporting students with diverse learning needs. Throughout my career, I have developed comprehensive expertise in working with students with autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities. My approach focuses on individualized curriculum adaptation and holistic student development, ensuring each learner receives targeted, compassionate support.

My qualifications include a Bachelor of Education in Foundation Phase, current New Zealand Teaching Registration, and specialized certifications in communication support, including Makaton and Sign Language. These credentials, combined with my extensive practical experience, enable me to create adaptive, responsive learning strategies that meet individual student requirements.

I am particularly passionate about inclusive education and have consistently demonstrated the ability to develop supportive, engaging learning environments that celebrate neurodiversity. My skills in behavior modification and early childhood development have allowed me to help students overcome learning challenges and reach their full potential.

New Windsor School's commitment to comprehensive learning support resonates deeply with my professional philosophy. I am excited about the opportunity to bring my expertise, empathy, and proven track record to your team, contributing to your school's mission of inclusive, high-quality education.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my skills and experience align with your learning support needs. Thank you for considering my application.

Kind regards,
