

Here's the cover letter:

Dear Principal and Hiring Committee,

I am writing to apply for the Year 1 Classroom Teacher position at Birdwood School, with great enthusiasm and confidence in my ability to contribute meaningfully to your educational community.

With 18+ years of dedicated experience in Foundation Phase and Special Education, I bring a comprehensive background in creating inclusive, supportive learning environments. My Bachelor of Education in Foundation Phase, coupled with my current New Zealand Teaching Registration, positions me as a highly qualified candidate committed to exceptional early childhood education.

My extensive experience working with diverse learners, particularly students with special educational needs, has been a cornerstone of my professional journey. I have successfully supported students with autism, Down syndrome, ADHD, and intellectual disabilities, consistently developing tailored learning strategies that promote individual growth and academic achievement. My Makaton and Sign Language certifications further demonstrate my commitment to inclusive communication and supporting all learners.

Curriculum adaptation has been central to my teaching philosophy, allowing me to design responsive, engaging learning experiences that meet each child's unique potential. My approach combines evidence-based pedagogical practices with genuine compassion, ensuring every student feels valued and supported.

Birdwood School's reputation for educational excellence and inclusive practice deeply resonates with my professional values. I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my expertise, passion, and specialized skills to your remarkable educational team.

I look forward to discussing how my background and approach can support your school's learning objectives.

Kind regards,

Henriette Charlotte Beeslaar
